CONTAINER GRAPHICS ANNOUNCES JIM ALEXANDER RETIREMENT

CARY, NC (January 20, 2016) – After a long successful career Jim Alexander, President and Chief Operating Officer of Container Graphics Corp., retired from the company on January 8th, 2016.

Jim began with Container Graphics in 1976 as a sales representative in Charlotte, North Carolina. He was promoted to sales manager in Atlanta, Georgia and then to General Manager in Charlotte. In 1984 he was made a Vice President of the company and was appointed to the position of Regional Manager in 1990. Jim took on the role of Chief Operating Officer in 2002 and then President in 2011.

In an internal memo, Neil Saunders, CEO of Container Graphics, wrote; “He managed with passion, care and a good dose of southern charm and humor. He did an excellent job of leading and mentoring. His presence will be greatly missed. We all wish Jim and his wife Donna a happy retirement.

Jim Alexander adds, "I will most certainly miss the entire CGC family as well as the many loyal customers I have had the pleasure of working with for nearly forty years in the business. I am proud of the work we have done as a company of bright and dedicated people to support the corrugated industry and I leave confident that this level of support will continue and grow for many years to come."

Neil Saunders is taking on the responsibilities of President as well as CEO.

Container Graphics Corporation is one of the world’s largest manufacturers of printing plates and cutting dies for corrugated packaging production. The company maintains its corporate headquarters in Cary, NC (USA), and operates 17 facilities worldwide.
